Der Mensch spricht.

Ich bin arm, mir fehlen Güter,
Ich bin krank, mir fehlt Gesundheit,
Bin ich traurig, mir fehlt Freude,
Bin ich einsam, mir fehlt Liebe,
Und das ganze Weltall fehlt mir,
Und mich selber, sitzt der Thoren
Einer hin zu einem Andern
Und sie klagen, sie seufzen und weinen,
Bin ich reich, mir fehlt Niemand nicht.

Was mir vor einer Angst ist
Ist eine große, meine Sünden, denken,
Wie ist ein reuiges heiliges Herz
Kommen und Barmherzigkeit anzubieten,
Was ein Lieb mir stets begleite,
Wie zu allem Guten leite,
Was ist stets in Musik Lust,
Meine Liebe ewig sei.

Das Läuseessen.

Ein Läuseessen hatte jener junge Gesell
Viel Leute waren zu dem Schmaus bestellt.
Der Gastherr saß mit seinen Gästen da,
Und alle lobten, was sie aßen.
Drei Kinder, ihrem Läuseessen gleich,
Die spielten an allen Seiten weich.
Sie wiesen den Weg zum Haus hinein;
Der Gastherr Mensch selbst sein.
